Only Connect!

Only connect the prose and the passion, and both will be exalted,

and human love will be seen at its heights.

Live in fragments no longer.

Only Connect!

E.M. Forster

Times moves relentlessly onward, not in organized or neat compartments, but with an endless and infinite variety of seemingly insignificant and unrelated episodes. Thus the OPENING section of the "Edneyville Connection" tries to capture the essence of the CLOSING weeks of school in the spring of 1973, tying last year's events to this. Some fragmentation results, but usually a fascinating connection comes to light.

Time segments are related, episodes interlaced, people intermingled, making it all a part of the related whole. Our goal is to make connections, to establish points of contact in our communication and intercourse with the world. We do not live isolated from one another, but depend upon warm smiles, knowing glances, friendly handshakes, loving lips, which are all a part of our story, but not the whole story.

BE ASSASSINATE

JACKETS

Many more connections are made: the paddle makes contact at the right spot, the angry fist finds its mark; the gossip, the frown, the sneer, the smirk which finds its insidious way into the connection, all are also part of the story.

This is a time when many are alienated, cut off, or isolated from themselves, others, and the Creator. The ending of the long tragic war emphasized that bitterness and hatred can be pushed back through face to face encounters, talking and negotiating.

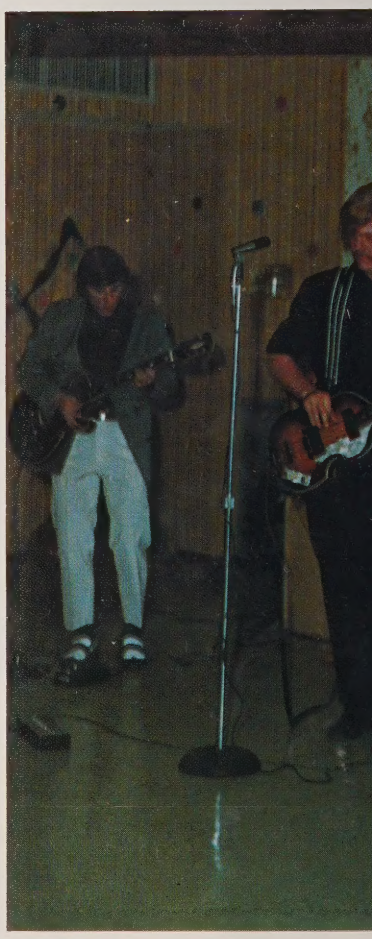
GOEDEN DAG



Again "The Light Year" provided the background with the loud beat for the lively Junior-Senior Prom for 1973 at the Holiday Inn.

"Goeden Dag," the Dutch word for "goodby," expressed the sentiments of the Juniors as they wished the Seniors farewell.

The blue and yellow decorations were attractively executed by the committee and helpers who were Nancy Garren, chairman, Furlon Corn, David Jones, Wanda Moon, Rusty Davidson, Pam Prim, and Ginger Guice.

Miss Messer supervised the occasion making certain that this would be a memorable evening.

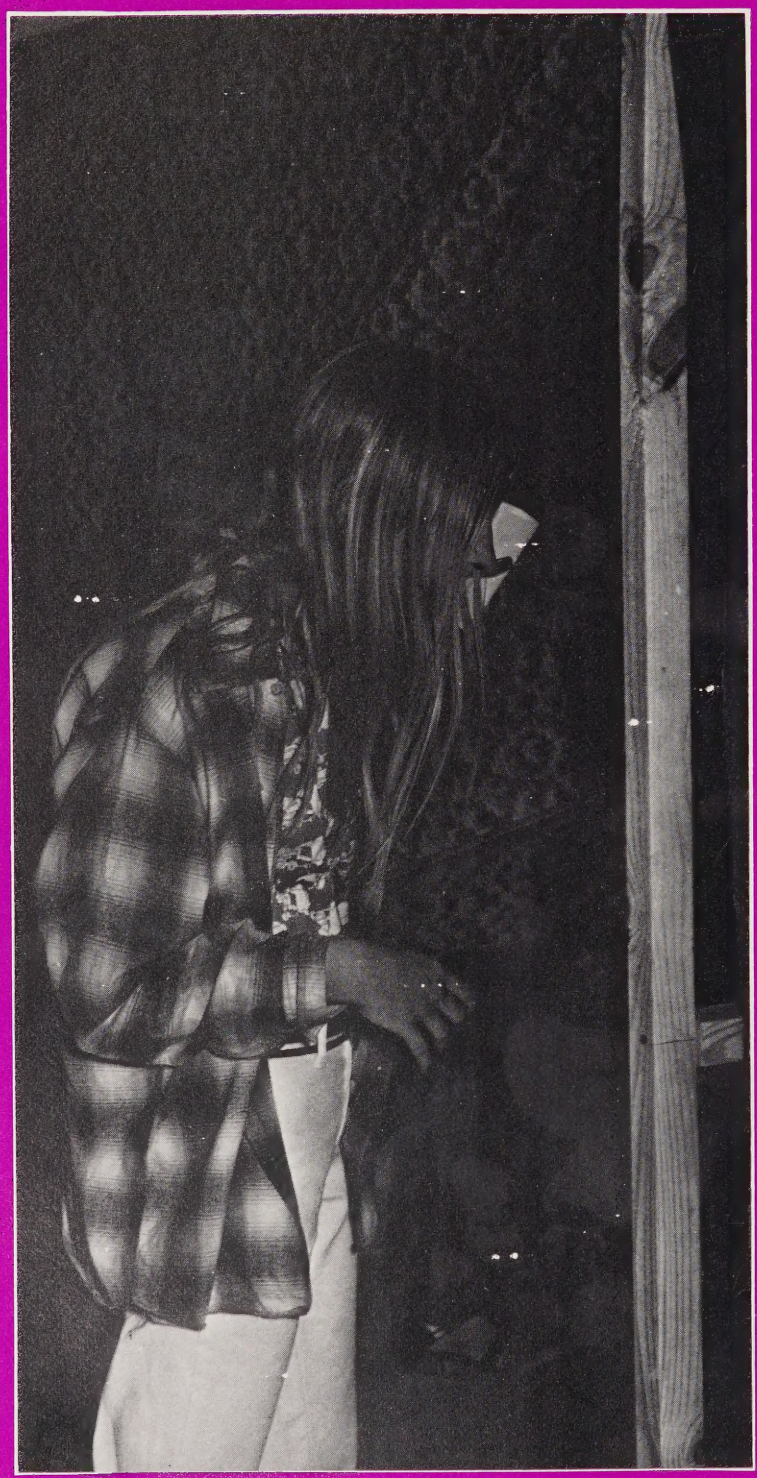
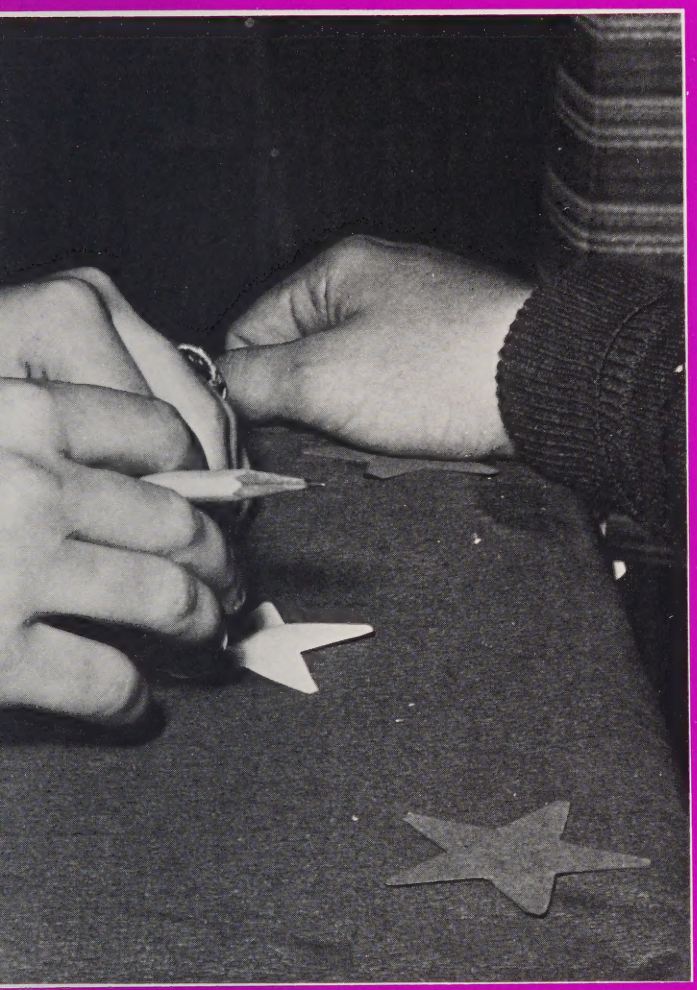
SELECTING LE



ADERS

Student body elections herald the coming of spring at Edneyville High. The activities of the campaigns and the balloting cause the tempo of quicken; the spirit of competition is keen, breaking the monotony of the humdrum days. After the smoke of the heated race is gone, James Dowsett emerges the victorious leader of the student body for the 1973-1974 school year. Two vice-presidents are elected, Mike Newman and Cheryl Hill. Nancy Garren is chosen to act as secretary; Vickie Nix is selected to handle finances.

The rapport of the new leaders with their constituency speaks many volumes concerning the involvement in and participation of people with people in the "Edneyville Connection."



Such obvious connections as track shoes pounding against the turf or two runners making contact briefly during the passing of the baton tells the story of the track team. The hours of lung-bursting, muscle-straining practice are connected to the resulting final triumph. The team members are permanently connected in their memory of the hours which they have in common of striving, enduring, and winning.

The team captured the Blue Ridge Conference title by winning the meet and outscoring easily the runner-up, Spruce Pine. Frankie Waters is the leader in the meet taking first place four times, three of which are individual contests.

For its "putting out" the team is rewarded with a handsome trophy.

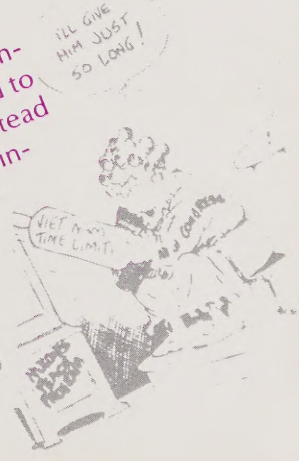
ENDING THE WAR

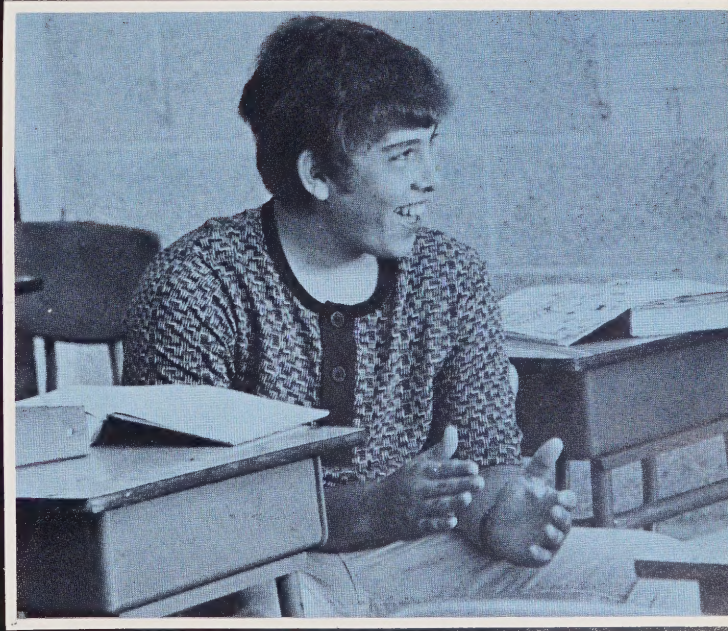
The war, which has been ever-present in the entirety of our school days, finally comes to a conclusion in the spring of 1973. The war causes us to wonder about the foolishness of such conflicts, of slaughtering and maiming of men. We are still in the midst of an uneasy peace; but we realize that unless man humbles himself enough to recognize his connection with his Creator and fellow man there will be no peace. Working on establishing lasting and meaningful relationships among ourselves is a concrete way of making a lasting peace. We are glad to see world leaders sitting face to face talking instead of shooting. We must talk, communicate, and involve ourselves to make real connections.



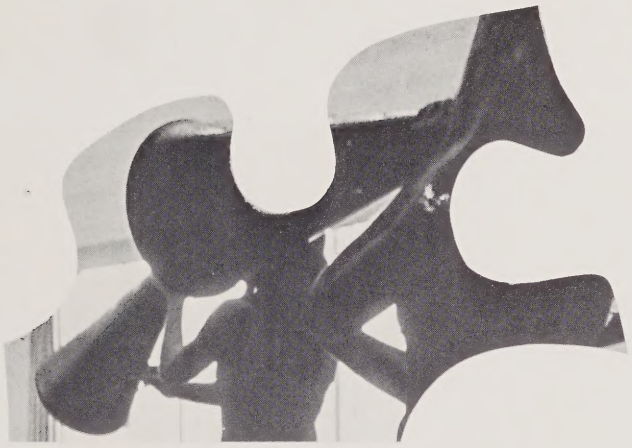
ESTABLISHING CONTINUITY

Before the 1973 baccalaureate and graduation can be held many menial tasks have to be done: seats have to be sanded, the auditorium cleaned, and the windows washed. These tasks fall to the junior marshals whose primary responsibility is to escort the graduating class, establishing a line of continuity between those remaining and those leaving.

Although still earthbound, we are reaching out in the universe. Our imaginations soar beyond our restricted world. We are trying to join the world community and become active members of the human race. We start by joining our school world. We join clubs; we fight loyally in competitive sports; we cheer our school on to success in all things. We identify with our own, making relevant and abiding bonds between ourselves.



ACTIVITIES



GETTING IT ALL TOGETHER

The Student Council bursts with a flood of activity, by renewing the constitution in an effort to strengthen the club. Students are this year by debating in sessions and releasing their tidal waves of opinion. The council is the tool that the students use for their connections with the faculty. The Student Council consists of representatives from each class and club. The major representatives are James Dowsett, president; Mike Newman, first vice-president; Cheryl Hill, second vice-president; Nancy Garren, secretary; and Vickie Nix, treasurer.

The Junior High Student Council and Beta Club participate in various activities for the junior high. They buy gym equipment and compile the honor roll.

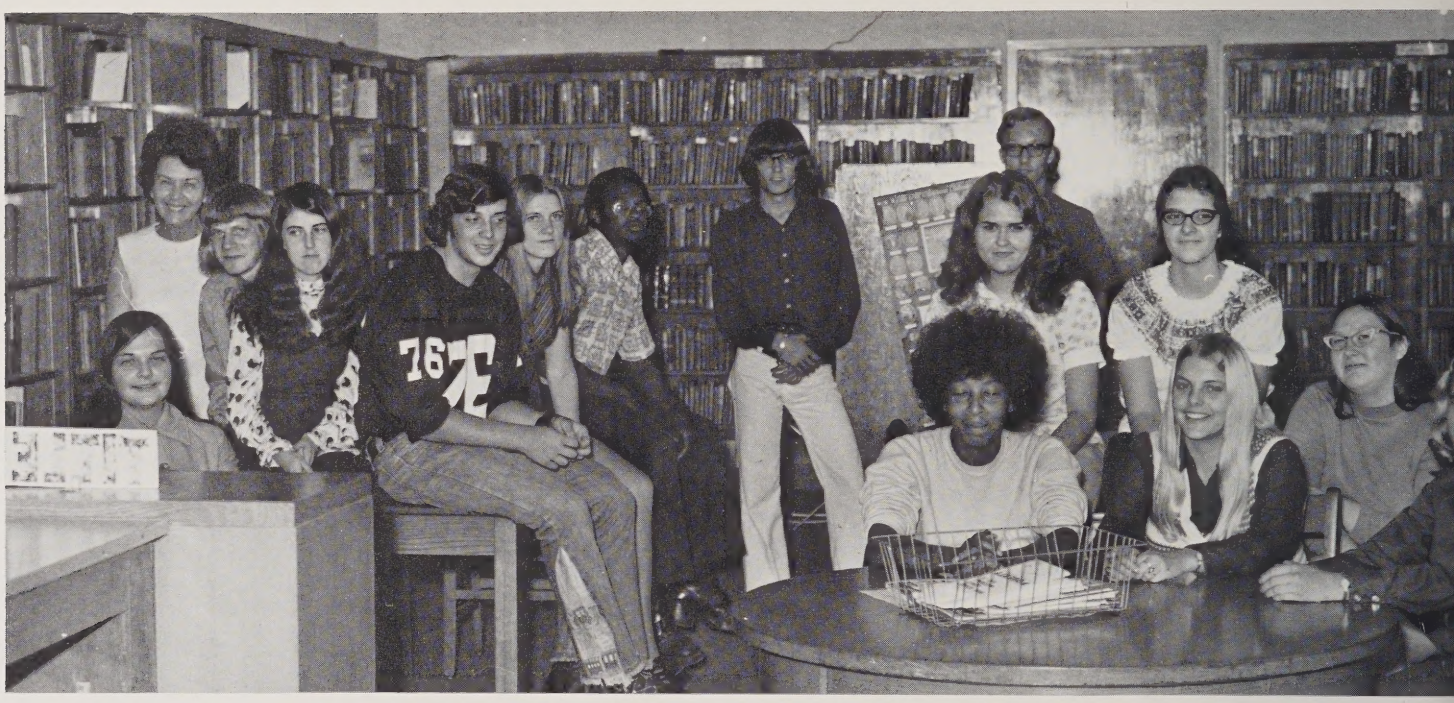
Not only do they work on services for the school, but work to help the community by giving a needy family a Christmas dinner. Both clubs go to the orthopedic hospital to cheer up the lives of unfortunate children by taking them gifts, food, and candy.

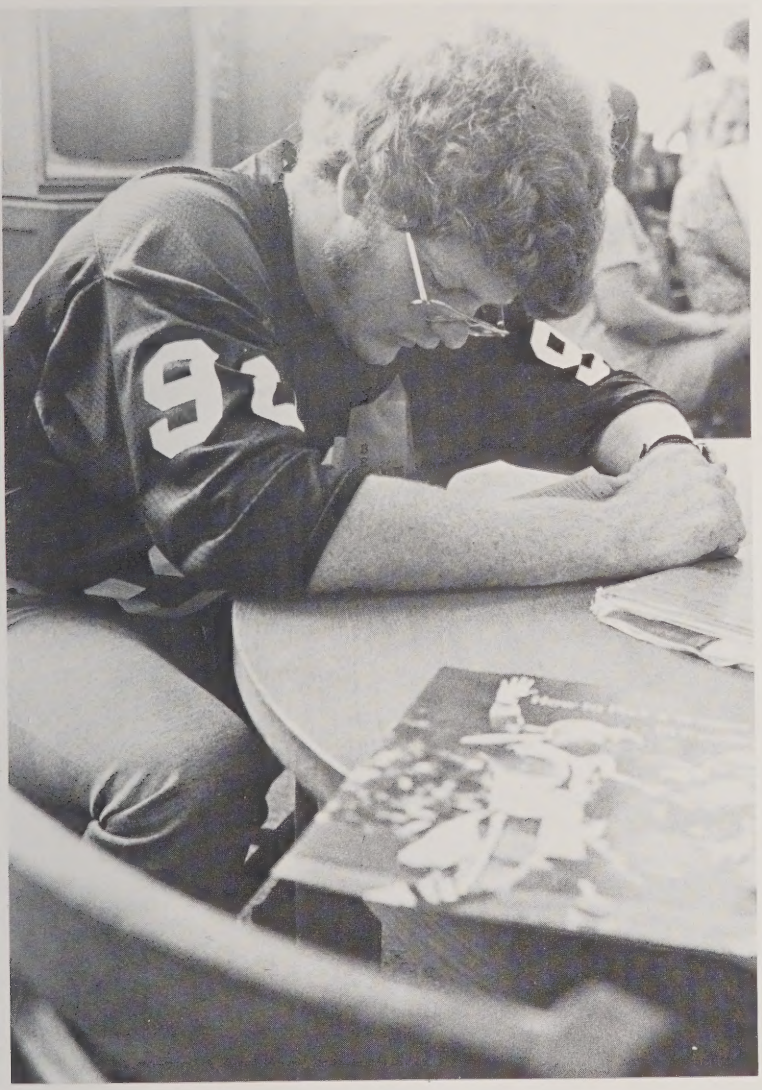
The Student Council officers are Sue Moon, president; Rene Moss, vice-president; Leca Bradley, secretary; and Marion Johnson, treasurer. The Beta Club officers ar Donna Barnwell, president; Barbara Hoots, vice-president; Kim Justus, secretary; and Kathy Laughter, treasurer.

The functions of both the Key Club and Library Science are

SERVING THE SCHOOL

The Library Science students serve by assisting the librarian and students. The Key Clubbers help by monitoring the halls, operating the concession stand and parking cars. They are concerned with various community projects. Although their major concern is service to others, they have a good time by going to club social functions, attending division meetings, and attending the much-anticipated convention. Key Club officers are Clyde Dalton, president; Mike Newman, vice-president; Allen Booth, secretary; Stacy Rhodes, treasurer.



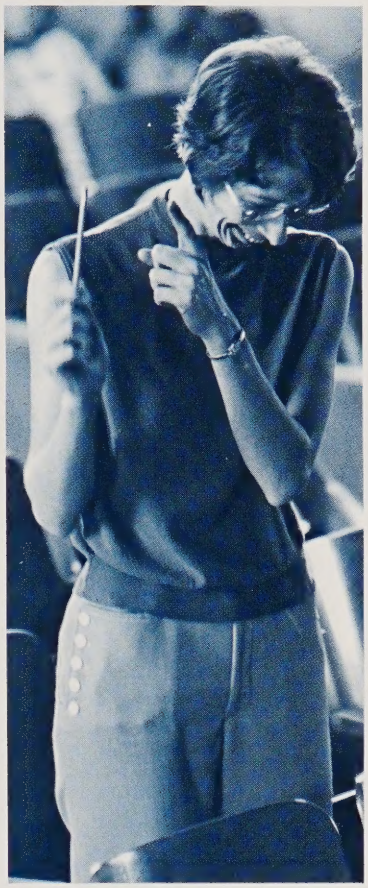


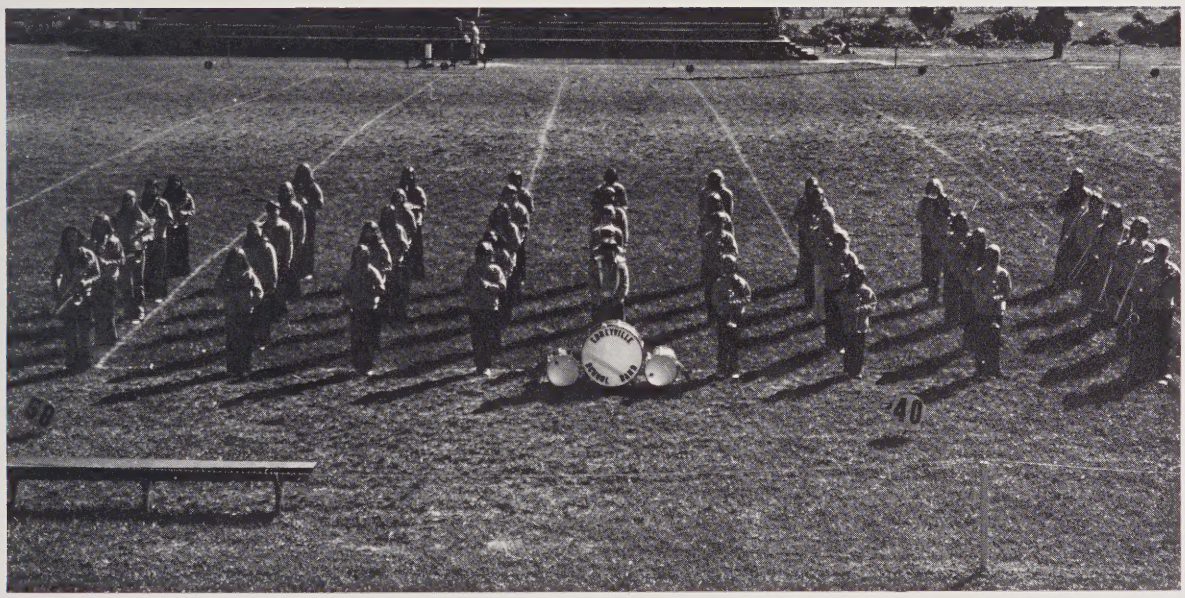
The chorus adds a touch of glamour to Edneyville by going into the show "biz" when they present their holiday programs.

SINGING

their hearts out under the direction of Mrs. Annie Burley, they lend a real touch of color and dignity to the baccalaureate and graduation ceremonies. The officers are Chuck Hill, president; Patsy Laughter, vice-president; Retha Waters, secretary; Becky Rogers, treasurer.

BAND





Under the magic pencil-baton of Miss Sue Wilson, the Edneyville band sounds off with a distinctive flair. "Hot Lips" Ronnie Mullis lets the good times roll with the blare of his horn. the school and PTA, the band creates an enthusiastic spirit for football games, pep rallies, and school programs. The officers are Tava Orr, president; Joy Harrell, vice-president; and Paula Earley, secretary-treasurer.

ENTERTAINING

The Bricklaying classes and the business department make a constant effort to help students in for future occupations. Bricklaying, taught by Mr. Joe Lancaster, lays a foundation for an art which has been honed to a fine edge, an art developed after hours of patience and concentration.

A major project of Bricklaying II is the veneering of Anderson Chapel Church.

Miss Cody prepares her girls with great care to face the requirements of business, shorthand, and typing. She makes sure her girls can "get it on" so they can make it in the real world.

Mr. Coble "don't 'low no slack" from his typing students as they flex their fingers and prepare to make those typewriters sing. "If something's worth doing, it's worth doing right," is Mr. Coble's motto. Mrs. Sherry Whitmire came in November to take Mr. Coble's place.

Mr. Tom Pryor begins his reign over the agriculture department and the FFA. In the shop and green house the students are by working with the lathe and welding metals.

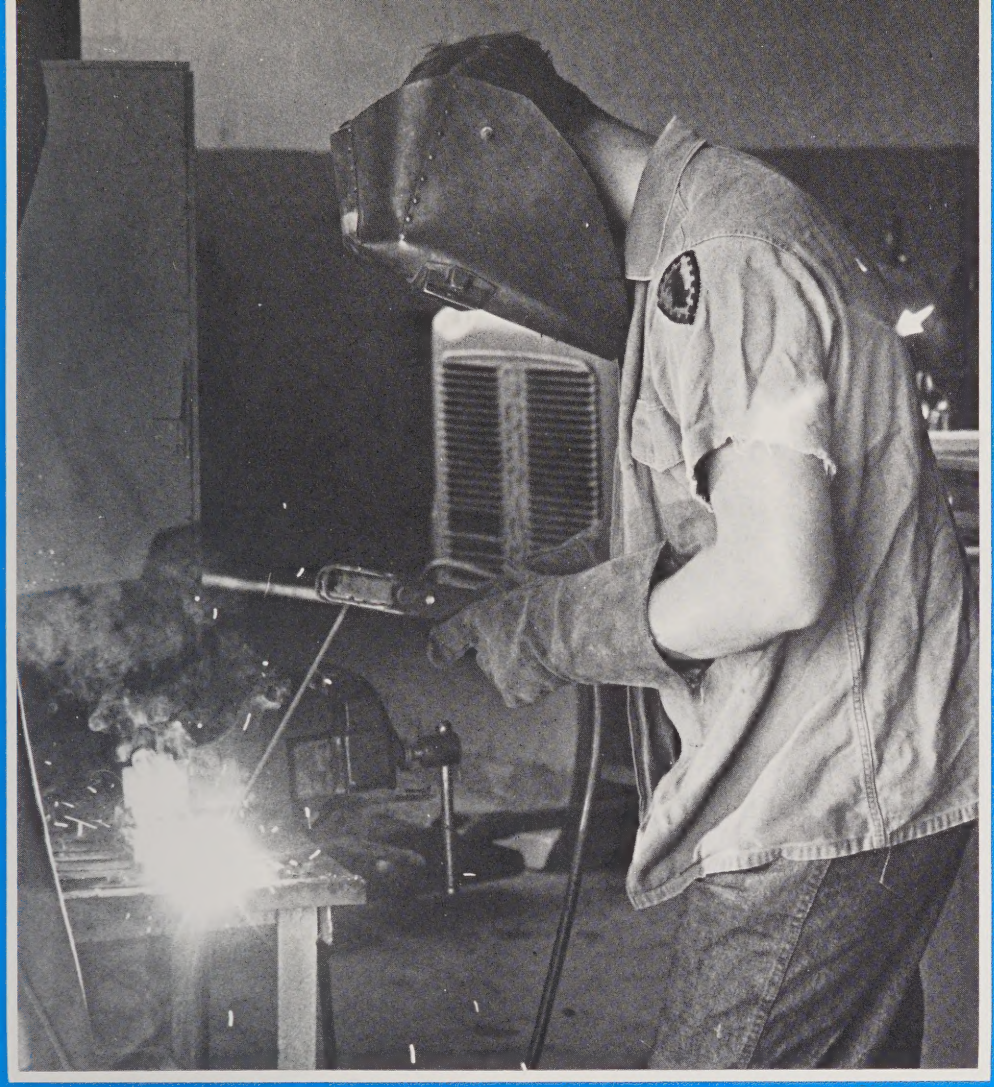
The FFA constructs election booths for student council elections. They enter contests of tool identifications and land evaluation.

The FFA officers are Steve Starling, president; Robert Teasnear, secretary and treasurer; Ricky Farme, reporter and Mike Hill, sentinel.

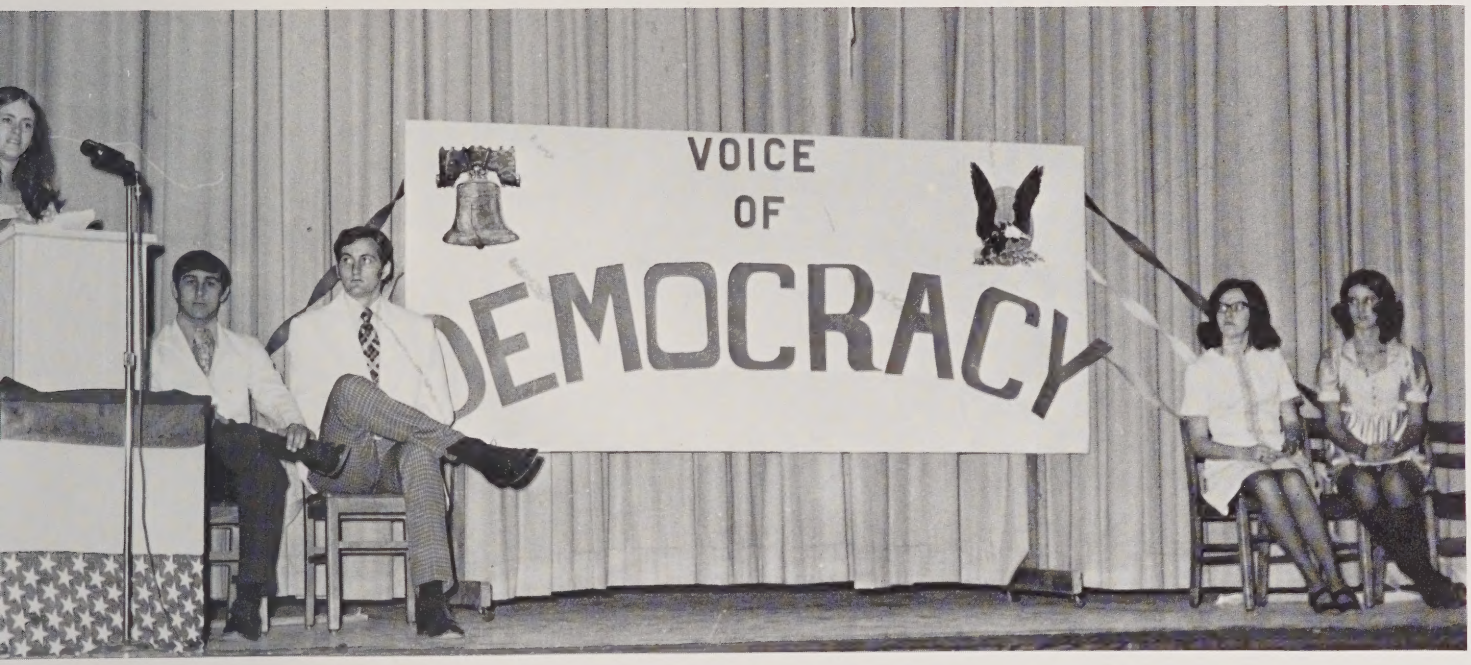


VOICE OF

Speaking on the theme "My Responsibility as a Citizen," all four contestants in the 1973 Voice of Democracy Contest stressed the importance of the involvement of individual citizens in the affairs of the country. Participants in the contest, which was sponsored by Hedrick-Rhodes Post 5206, Veterans of Foreign Wars, were James Dowsett, first place winner; Pam Prim, Wanda Moon, and Becky Rogers. Prizes were U.S. savings bonds.

Mr. John Summey was faculty sponsor of the assembly program which was emceed by Mike Newman and judged by a panel of three faculty members. Also featured on the program were a slide presentation entitled "I Am America" and a film, "The American Flag."

DEMOCRACY



The Beta and Monogram Clubs are made up of students in athletics and academics.

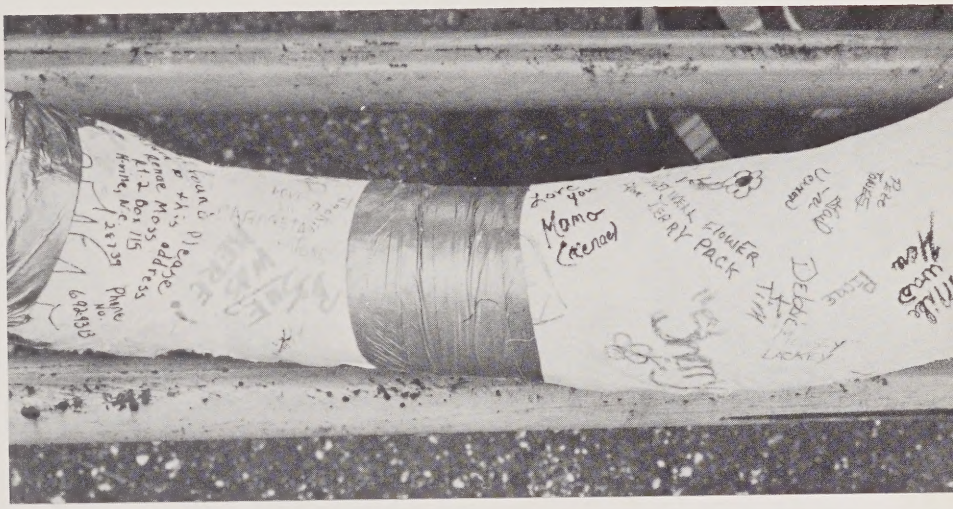
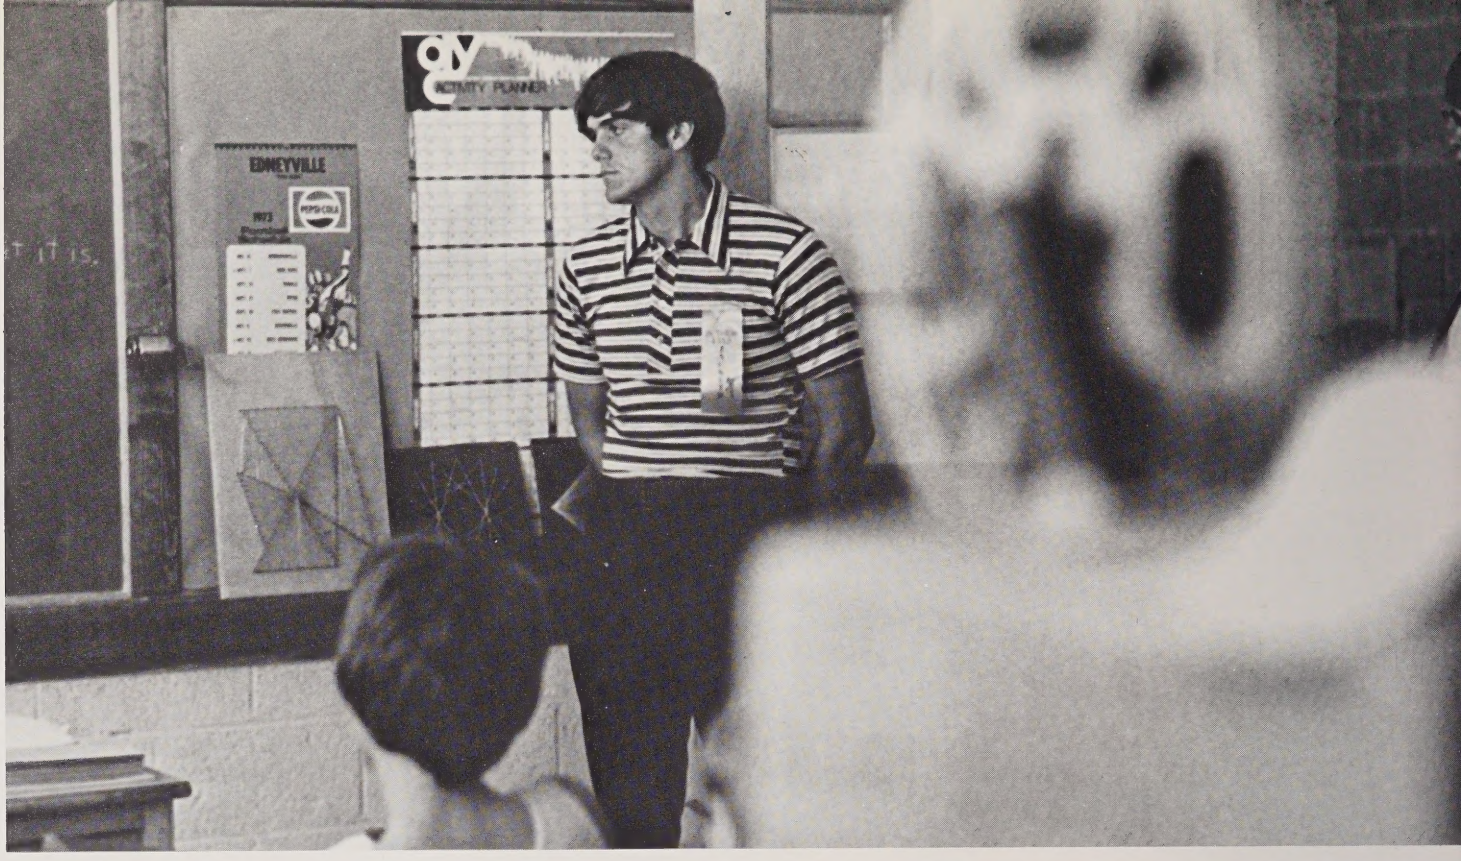
The Beta Club sponsors the talent show, senior tea, and a dinner for a needy family at Christmas. The officers are Jimmy Tester, president; Pam Prim, vice-president; Wanda Moon, secretary; and Cheryl Freeman, treasurer.

The major project of the Monogram Club is its banquet. The officers are David Jones, president; Stacy Rhodes, vice-president; Joy Harrell, secretary; Kathy Hamberis, treasurer.





Mrs. Tanis Lyda begins showing her Career Exploration students that there is more to life than just

PICKING APPLES

We are not knocking apple pickers, but who wants to pick apples when he can pick brains, or go on a year-round vacation and make sixty thousand dollars a year.

"But I thought we weren't supposed to use Mr. Croft as an example."

Mr. Summey unwittingly presides over more than just the "studies" of the social studies department. Much takes place across the desks. Although the world problems are considered, pressing personal problems take precedent. Who cares if Nixon is getting impeached when one sees Jeff walking down the hall by himself? And after all what is the difference if Russia is about to blow us off the map? Joy just blew David out of the school.

Miss Messer teaches her girls there is more to marriage than just a clean house and well-fed husband; for example, keeping him on a regular weight lifting program. Either way, she teaches them to keep husbands happy. "Now, Jimmy!" The FHA's original theme this year is "Program Action Impact." Members choose projects from the following categories: personal, family, job, career, and community. The club creates an original booth at the fair, brightens and cheers up the lives of the veterans at Oteen, and attends district and state rallies.

The FHA officers are Pam Staton, president; Pam Corn, vice-president; Vicki Corn, secretary; Bobby Saunders, treasurer; and Tava Orr, co-secretary and treasurer.

Many things are involved in for the yearbook staff. Ads must be sold, copy written, and layouts done. Because of this work the staff is humming with activity throughout the year. The annual room is cluttered with 3-R forms, homecoming pictures, and unfinished science copy. Pushed on by Sponsor Dan Pace and Co-editors Jimmy Tester and Larry Dunn, the book is finally finished. All this work is rewarded the day the final product arrives. That day is spent signing, remembering, and admiring.

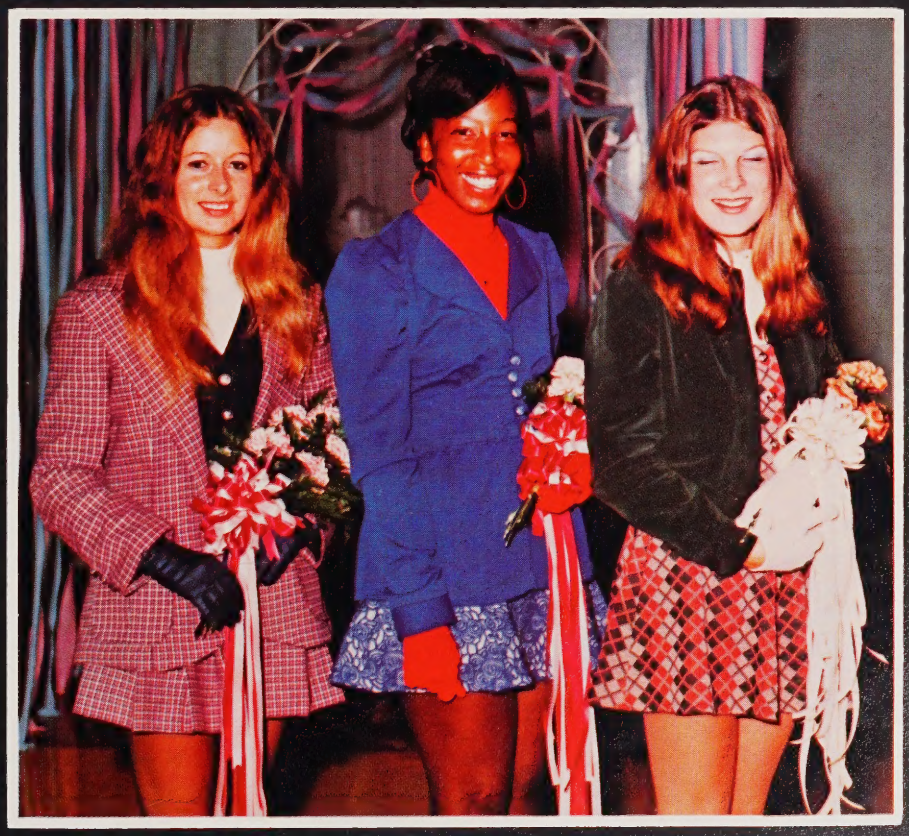
DOING IT ALL TOGETHER

After a clear and beautiful day, the homecoming court is presented at halftime during the game with Polk Central. The senior representatives on the court are Cheryl Hill, Loretta Pryor, and Pam Staton. The junior representatives are Kathy Hamberis and Debbie Hill; the sophomores are Becky Rogers and Patsy Laughter. It turns out to be Pam Staton's night as she begins reigning over the court.

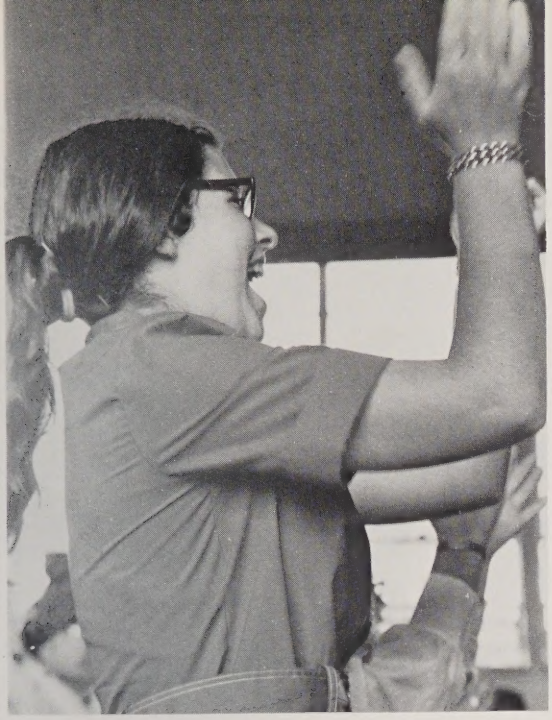
PAM'S REIGNING



The week of Homecoming dawns bright and clear, a sure sign of rain by Friday night; but hopes remain high all week as the Powder Puff Team practices for its annual game. It is rained out until Thursday of the next week. Fortunately by Friday the rain passes over, and Homecoming looks much brighter. Spirit Day is spirited! All classes have skits at the Annual Homecoming Pep Rally. The cheerleaders pose as judges and decide the Best Skit Award goes to the freshman class, but the coveted Spirit Stick is awarded to the football team for its outstandingly high spirits.

Finally the night is here; the court members are arrayed in their elegant outfits. That excited, expectant feeling is in the air. At half-time with the score at 0-0 the court is presented on the field. With the soft music of "Autumn" playing in the background, a very surprised and radiant Pam Staton is crowned Homecoming Queen, 1973, by former queen Debbie Harrell.

The court leaves the field, and the game continues. In the last few minutes of the game, Polk Central scores a touchdown; and, although the Jackets rally, they can not score before time runs out. After the game the homecoming dance is held in the gym with music performed by "Stuff." The court leads off the evening with the "Queen's Waltz." Homecoming is over for another year.



To the unaccustomed eye a pep rally is an orgy of screaming, yelling, clapping, and singing of absurd chants — all to obtain a silly-looking black stick with gold crepe paper. To those who are accustomed participants in this ritual, this is a contribution to the school spirit of Edneyville. It is a great excuse for getting out of class for awhile.

This is the first year for Edneyville's pep club. The goal of the club is to boost school spirit by cheering at games and helping cheerleaders in other ways. The club officers are Jennie Heckman, president; Judy Barnwell, vice-president; Brenda Hill, secretary; Robin Clark, treasurer.

COMING ON STRONG

With many strenuous practices, good senior leadership, and Edneyville pride, the season looks bright as the 1973 football schedule starts for the players on August 3. The 20 players on the Jacket team travel to Hickory to play Granite Falls in scrimmage game which they win, but they lose two starters, one for the entire season and the other for three games. Injuries are the rule the entire season for the Jackets, who could not afford to lose any players, but lose 10 starters for at least one game or more.

The 1973 football team consists of

Every player on the team except for four are hampered with injuries. In spite of injuries the Jackets still show they have pride as they tie 3A state champs Tuscola 0-0. They play hard every game even though they are underdogs.

Coaches Bill Whitmire and Tom Pryor can not understand the fate of this team which has such good material. Out of the years they have coached, they have had only one knee injury; but this year's crippled team has five knee injuries with four knee operations. The season is already looking bright for next year and a 2A state championship.

JUNIOR VARSITY

The Junior Varsity Team starts the year with a bang with two wins, but lose to Hendersonville. Their coach, Mr. Henry Coble, is out for two weeks with surgery, but the team manages to close the season with four wins and four losses.

The team is made up of the following boys:
LAST ROW: Greg Nix, Bill Willingham, Mike Laughter, Hugh Hill, Jeff Sinclair, Rusty Burgess, Steve Laughter, Ronnie McKinney.
The score box appears Cane River 6, Edneyville 14; Rugby 6, Edneyville 12; Hendersonville 28, Edneyville 12, Polk Central 12, Edneyville 0; Bakersville 0; Edneyville 8; Spruce Pine 18, Edneyville 36.

JUNIOR HIGH CHEERLEADERS

The Junior High Cheerleaders, sponsored by Mrs. Dot Case, cheer for both the football and basketball games on Wednesday afternoons. Captain Linda Brevard leads the seven-member team which is composed of eight graders except one member from the seventh.

JUNIOR HIGH FOOTBALL

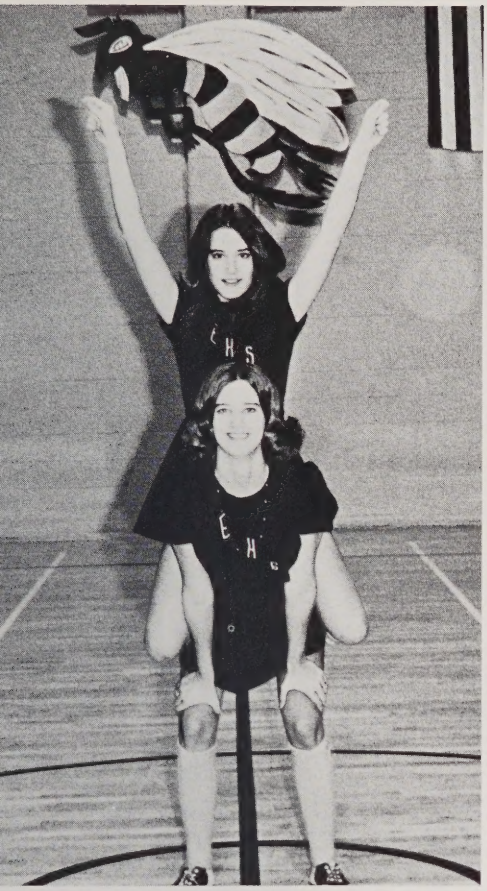
The Junior High Football Team, coached by Mr. John Whitmire and Mr. Gary Pittillo, win three and lose two. The boys alternate as captains in preparation for varsity action.

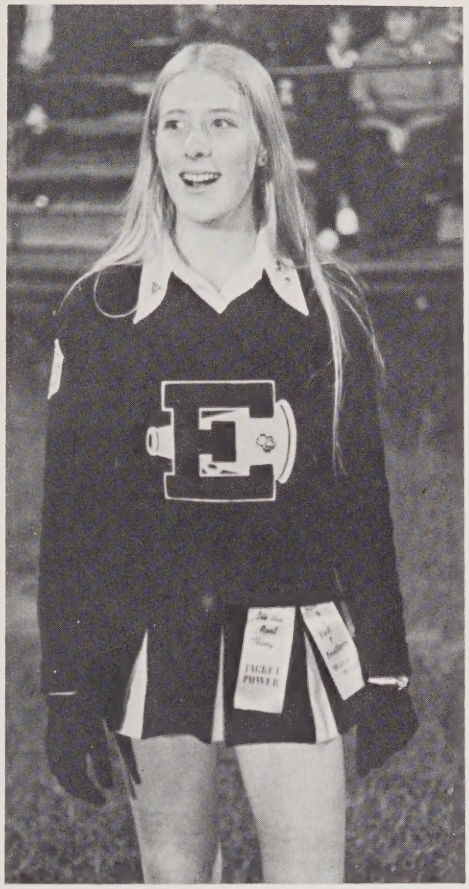
JV CHEERLEADERS

Leading our J.V. teams on to victory are our J.V. Cheerleaders. Headed by their captain, Sherry Baldwin, these girls sparkle and shine all through football and basketball seasons.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Exuding school spirit, the Varsity Cheerleaders glide into the new athletic season with cupcakes, special ribbons, new cheers, and loads of enthusiasm. The team has thirteen girls on the squad instead of the usual eight.





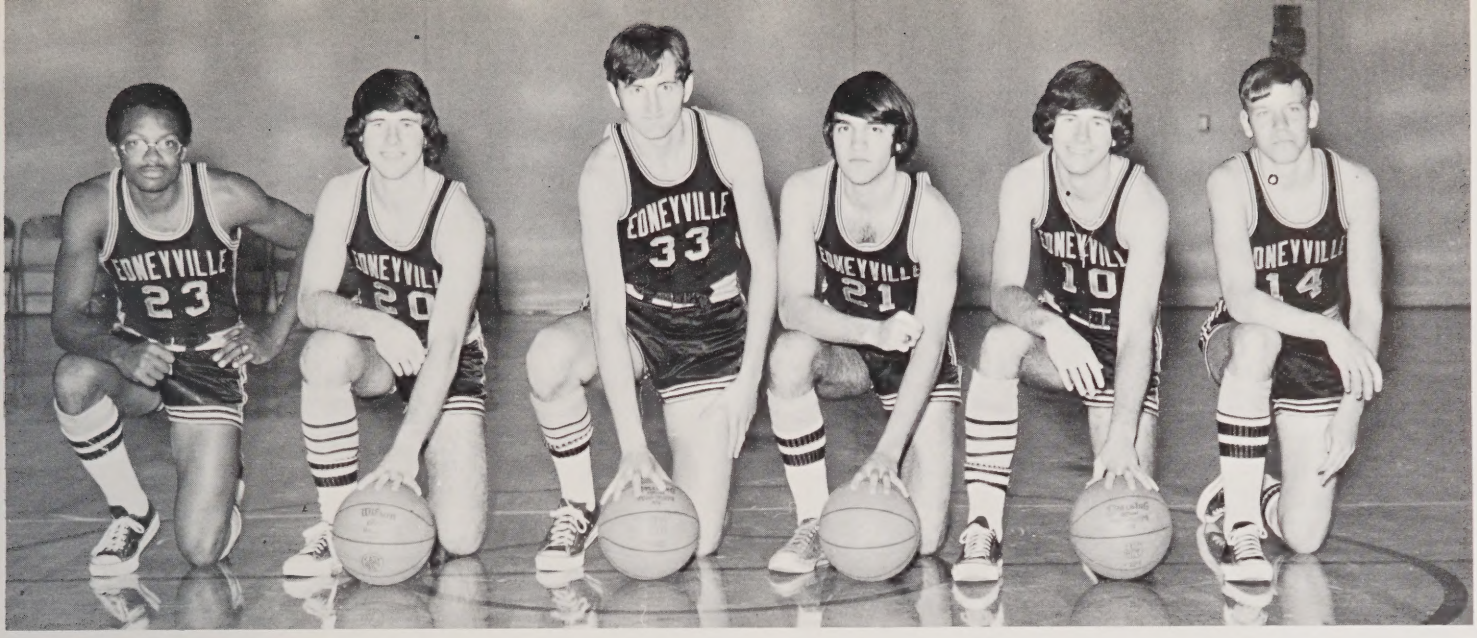
Led by Captain Pam Prim, they attend a week-long training camp sponsored by the American Cheerleaders Association at Newberry College in Newberry, S.C.

The cheerleaders now have hopes of attending the A.C.A. Academy in Leesburg, Florida. The members of the team are Patsy Laughter, Ruthie Fowler, Tava Orr, Vickey Corn, Loretta Pryor, Susan Walker, Ellen Laughter, Debbie Hill, Becky Rogers, Pam Prim, Cheryl Hill, Kathy Hamberis, and Paula Early.

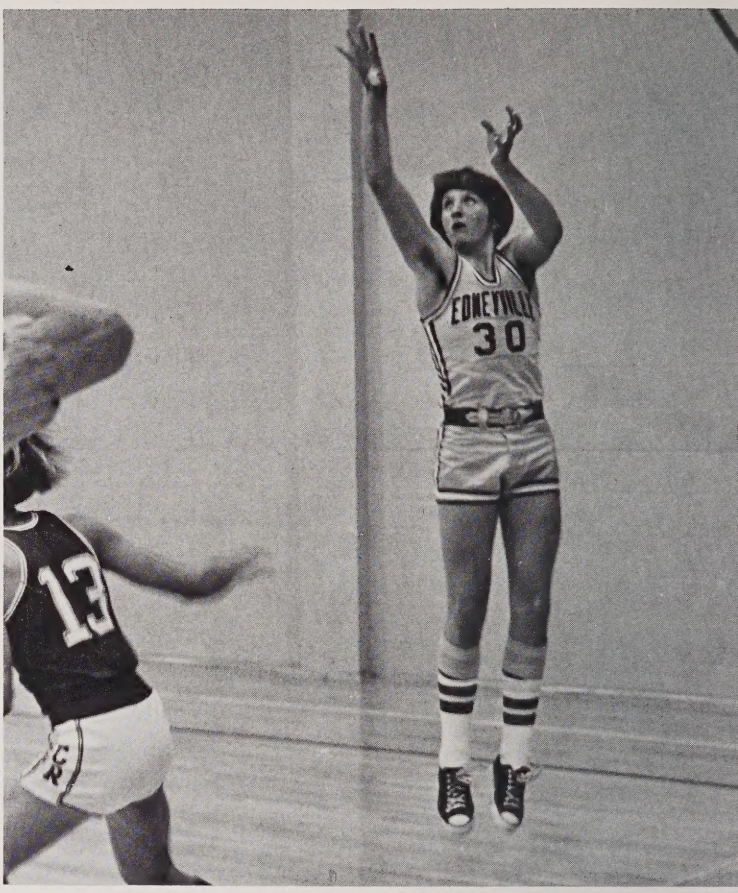
Always attractively dressed out in black and gold the cheerleaders get the activities started at game time. The crowds enthusiastically respond to the contagious spirit of the girls.

DROPPING IT IN THE HOLE . . .

is not the theme as the Jacket Team, under the leadership of Coach John Whitmire, and Co-captains Danny Jones and James Dowsett, starts to a slow, three-wins, five-losses, pre-Christmas season. The six players participating in their last year at Edneyville, Frankie Waters, Danny Jones, James Dowsett, John Odom, David Jones, and Duane Lyda are eigher giving it their all on the court or helping Jackie Corn and Ricky Dalton cheer the team on from the bench.



Striving after a team which last year won Blue Ridge Conference and District 8 AA honors, is a definite challenge. It is a year of numerous injuries, but the able and expert care of our managers, Chuck Hill and Jimmy Tester, reduces the effect of those many aches and pains.



Up, up, and away ... Jerry doing his thing with the ball; faster than a speeding bullet ... Jeff and David handling the ball; more powerful than a locomotive ... Pryor elbowing his way to a rebound; able to leap tall buildings with a single bound ... Danny preparing for takeoff; but

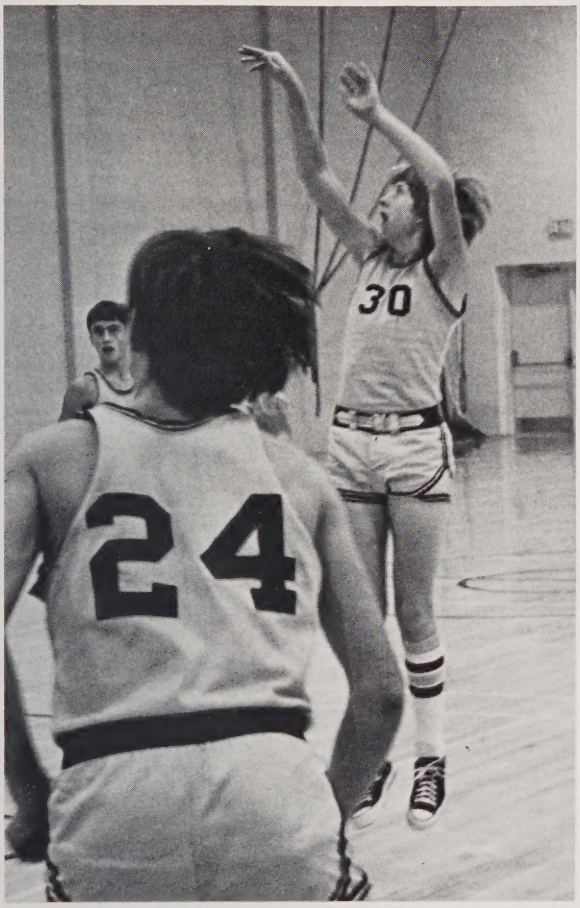
JV BASKETBALL



Stressing "hustle" and team play, Mr. John Whitmire also coaches the Junior Varsity Basketball Team with the goal of winning the conference. Joel Parris acts as the manager of the team which has on it four out of the starting five freshman as they gain experience and confidence. The scoring is balanced with Frank Conner as the high scorer.

The Junior Varsity Team Consits of

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL

The Junior High boys and girls play a schedule of ten games. Throughout the season the teams will gain experience and confidence. The girls, coached by Mrs. Case, start the season with a 3-0 record, while the boys, coached by Mr. Montgomery, find the competition tougher. The boys still show they can be a championship team. Defeat catches them on occasions but only by two points.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Richard Barnwell really shows his worth as the new assistant principal while Mr. Croft is in the hopsital in the fall for surgery. It is during this time that a few students sound off firecrackers in a trash can.

Mr. Croft is concerned about the schedule and has Mr. Tester work out a new one which goes into effect January 6. The school goes back to a six-period day with activities relegated to the third period. The new daylight saving time forces the shortening of the day with a shortened lunch period.

The School Board employees are a vital part of the Edneyville Connection. They provide the many services required to back up our operation. Mr. Glen Marlow has to worry about the fuel situation and the study for accreditation. Mr. Sammy Reese has to contend with the bus problems.

Mr. Bill Barnwell is anxious about the Federal money we may not get. Dr. Le Zollinger busily initiates new programs for Junior and Senior High Schools. Mrs. Laura Davis works with the elementary schools trying to effect innovations.

This is a year of changes for the faculty. Mr. Henry Coble, Miss Margaret Blocker, and Mr. Gaylord Davis resign; Mr. Tom Pryor takes over in the shop and agriculture areas; Mrs. Tanis Lyda takes over in Career Exploration and Hands-On; Mrs. Sherry Whitmire teaches typing. Mrs. Susan Owenby comes to teach biology and physical science. Mr. Dan Pace's English classes are moved upstairs to room 13. Mrs. Rosemary Pace is enjoying her physical education classes in the new gym. Mr. Whitmire and Mrs. Duncan's two junior high classes are moved to the high school building. Pop Rogers still provides the refreshments around school.

Miss Frances Messer has fun with the junior high students in Hands-On classes. Mr. Welch Tester changes to a freshman homeroom. He works dutifully on the new class schedules.

Mrs. Annie Burley and Mr. Dan Pace experiment with quarter English courses. They also take students to see movies before the gas shortage.

Mr. Glenn Henderson sponsors the Beta Club this year in addition to his usual teaching load of science. Mr. John Summey uses many audio visuals to liven up his classes. Miss Elizabeth Cody takes over the personal typing float and girl's recreation, in addition to her regular business courses. Mr. Bill Whitmire continues to teach driver's education taking his life in his hands every afternoon.

Mr. Lancaster still holds forth daily in his homeroom in the teacher's lounge.

Miss Sue Wilson fights off Mr. Croft in the teacher's lounge while taking care of band business.

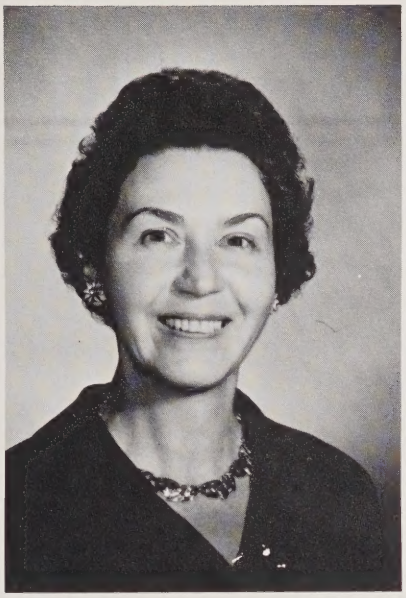
SERVICE STAFF

The people pictured on this page are a vital part of the "Edneyville Connection" Mr. Camp casts a lonely figure as he keeps the building clean. The student bus drivers learn the meaning of responsibility as they climb out of bed in the dark mornings to make their treacherous rounds.

The "lunchroom ladies" beam across the counter every noon at their hungry customers. Mrs. Gillespie has the terrific job of planning meals and keeping them reasonably priced.



Mrs. Margaret Lawter, Top Right, is the high school librarian and counselor. Helping students prepare to take college board tests and choosing the right college is just a part of her days work.

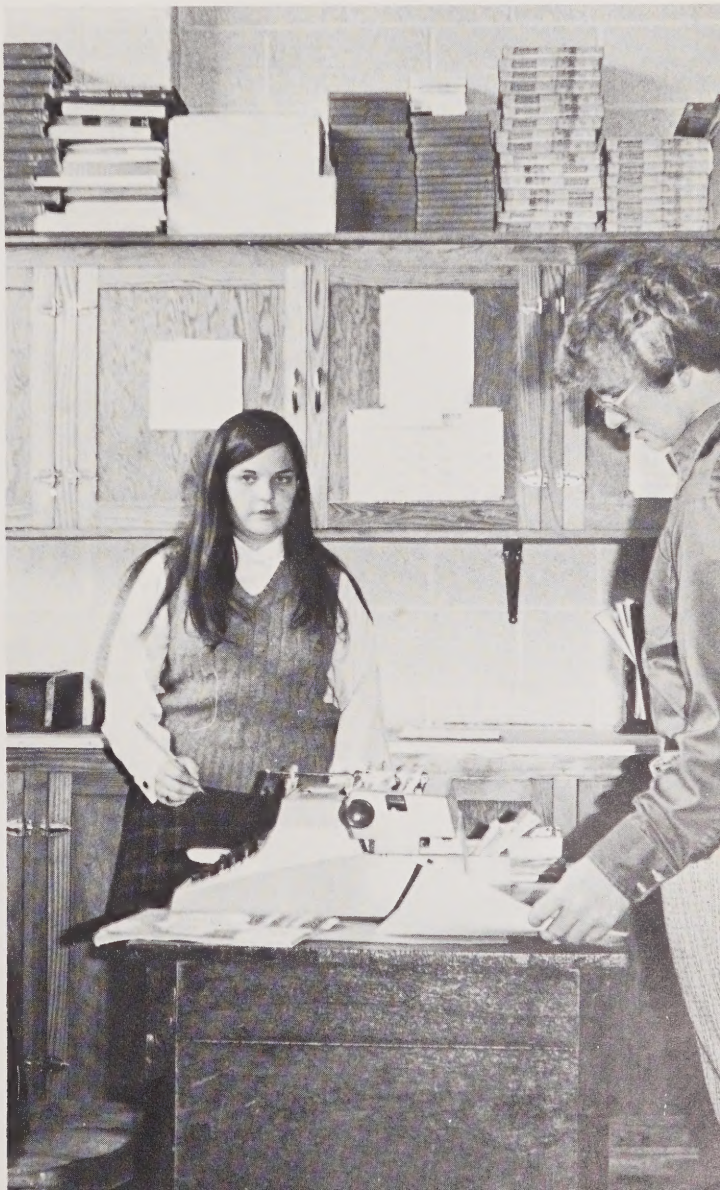
Mrs. Betty Jones, Below Right, is the elementary librarian. She is noted for her hard work and colorful bulletin boards.

Mrs. Pearl Pace, Top Left, is office secretary for the school. Between being school bookkeeper and keeping up with Mr. Croft she knows she has done a days work.



PROMINENT AND VERSATILE STUDENTS

Every year the teachers at Edneyville High are asked to nominate students who, they feel, excel in different areas and who contribute to the school. We present on these four pages the results of those nominations. This is the school's attempt to recognize outstanding students.

In an unusual situation. Left, Danny and David Jones, twins, are named as most valuable athletes.

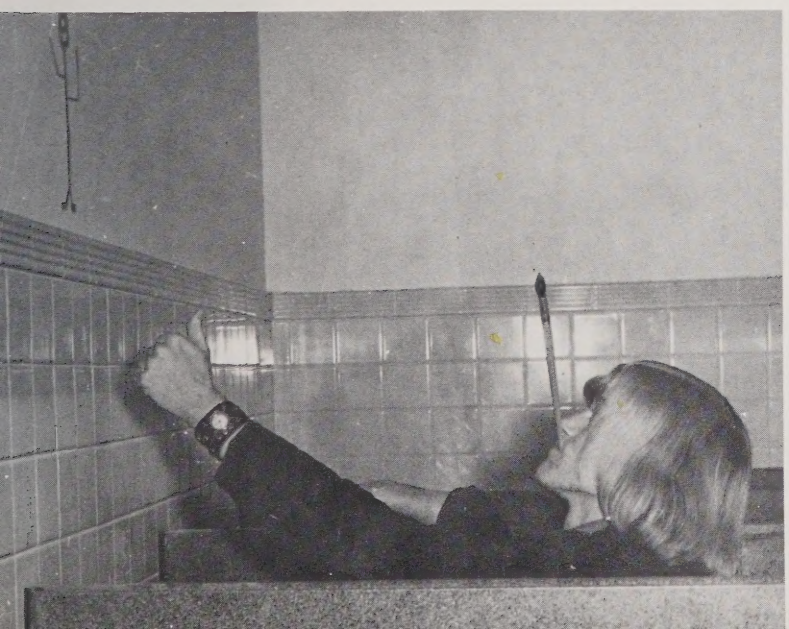
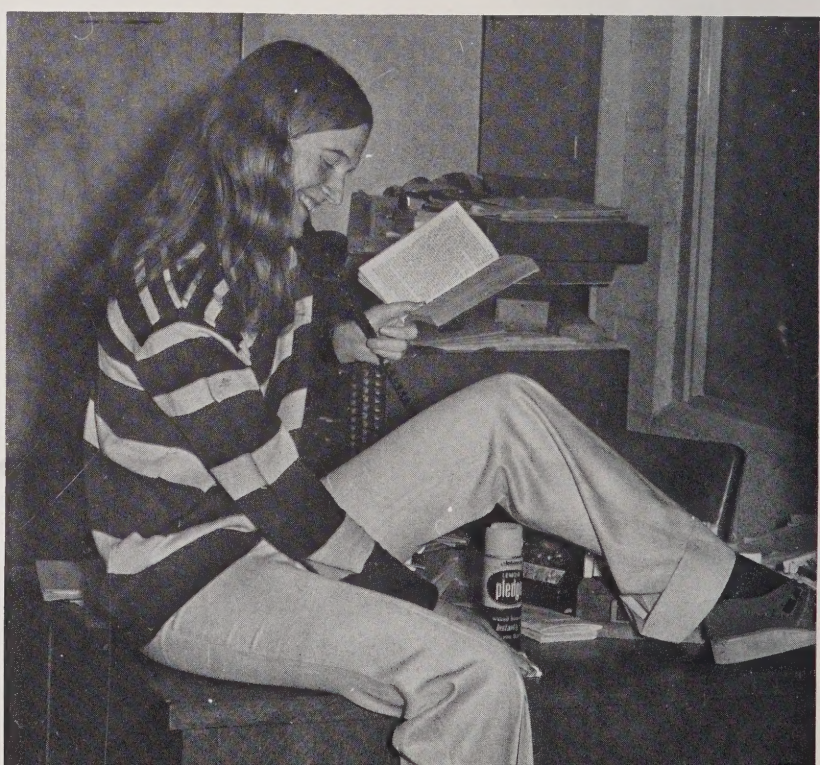
Denise Owenby and Larry Dunn, Bottom Right, are considered co-operative and outstanding in service.



It is agreed that Pam Staton and Clyde Dalton, Top Left, are valuable club workers, and that they have attractive personalities.

Chuck Hill, Top Right, an attractive personality, is thought to be creative. He serves his school in many ways.

It is recognized that Cheryl Freeman, Lower Left, serves her school in many valuable ways.



In addition to being named as a promising scholar, Nancy Garren, Top Left, is seen as an outstanding student in service to the school.

Jimmy Tester and Pam Prim, Top Right, win nominations as outstanding leaders. In addition Jimmy is recognized as a promising scholar and Pam is recognized as creative.

It is obvious that Cheryl Hill, Bottom, qualifies for her nominations as an attractive and interesting personality. She also serves her school well.

SENIORS

The senior class looks forward to the end of a long twelve years. This year varies from the solemnity of graduation to the "do what you like" class parties. Looking back to see where we have been, we see our years as a time of learning from the people with whom we have been associated and events in which we have participated. The "Senior parties" are wild, but the comradeship they produce among the class members more than makes up for the time and money involved.

The senior trip to Washington, D.C. is the highlight of the year. The Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials inspire us; we watch the changing of the guard in front of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier with respect and admiration. The words of such documents as the Constitution, the Declaration of Independence, and the Gettysburg Address fill us with awe. The senior trip, coupled with our senior parties and the fact that we are a very small class, 54 members, brings us together as a close-knit group. It is our feeling that each one grows enough to cope with what waits in the future.

The senior class officers are Furlon Corn, president; John Odom, vice-president; Teresa Drake, secretary; Loretta Pryor, treasurer; and Pam Staton, reporter.

JUNIORS

The juniors begin the year by ordering class rings and taking PSAT and SAT tests. Giving a prom for the Seniors, and planning to go on next year's senior trip are enough to make juniors sell Tom Wat. They faithfully do sell over $2,000 worth. This is the year that most juniors get their license to drive. The junior officers are Stacy Rhodes, president; Joy Harrell, vice-president; Paula Early, secretary; Debbie Hill, treasurer.

SOPHOMORES

The sophomores come to life in their first year in high school by winning the spirit stick in a pep rally — the first time in a long time. They gather on the activity bus on a beautiful fall day to journey to Hendersonville to see a showing of ROMEO AND JULIET. They settle into the routine of high school life getting involved in selling items to raise money for various clubs. The excitement of going steady and getting rings is part of the experience. Sandalwood incense odors waft through some sophomore classes. Some sophomore boys are still getting spankings in the hall.

Although disappointed to have still one more year in junior high, the freshmen show their school spirit by winning the Homecoming skit.

They celebrate after school by going down to Be-Bops, their favorite restaurant, entertain themselves at Halloween by throwing rotten peppers at police cars, and participate in new curriculum arrangements in "Career Exploration," and "Hands-On." Because of the gas shortage, they are not able to take the customary field trips which is another disappointment to bear.

The eighth grade take their annual trip to the State Fair in Raliegh.

They are the first class to tour the Governor's mansion out of all the classes from Edneyville.

Touring the legislature building and the capitol building were just a few of the things they do. Studying North Carolina history, English and Math takes up much of their time.

SEVENTH GRADE

Starting in their first year of junior high, seventh graders find life different from former routines. It is fun sharing lockers, changing classes, taking home economics, and regular physical education classes in the old gym. Their new experiences include laying brick, sawing boards, and other "Hands-On" activities.

The highlights of the day for sixth graders are still lunch, recess, and 3:15. They look forward to Christmas by putting up a Christmas tree and decorating it, hanging mobiles from the light fixtures, and exchanging gifts. They study current events with an emphasis on the energy crisis, political scandals, and the economy.

FIFTH GRADE

The fifth grade undertakes a new project entitled "Adopt-a-ship." They "adopt" the S.S. AMERICAN LEGACY. The ship crew and captain "adopt" the fifth grade. The class communicates with the captain and crew, sending them birthday cards and letters.

WHERE DO JOBS COME FROM?

A first-class fortune teller, very likely couldn't answer that question for you — how are jobs created? — as you go out into the world to seek your fortune. It's a subject fit for an entire course in economics.

But whether you'll be looking for a new job after school this year . . . or later, after additional education and training . . . we'd submit to you that basically, new jobs come from *profits!

The economist Peter Drucker, writing in Readers Digest has put it plainly:

"If we hope to succeed in creating new jobs for young people during the years just ahead, the country will have to find a great deal of new capital somewhere. This is particularly true of the jobs we will need the most — jobs for highly educated people . . . . The greater the skill or knowledge demanded by a job, the greater the capital investment needed to make it possible."

Make sense? Everyone knows that a computer operator can't work without a computer. And sophisticated computers can cost from hundreds of thousands of dollars to millions of dollars! By the same token, a doctor can't function effectively without a substantial investment in a nearby hospital . . . not to mention the costly equipment in his own office and in the labs on which he depends.

As Peter Drucker sums it up: we cannot hope to get new capital — the money that jobs are made from — by drawing on fat in the economy, or by "reducing excess profits*" as some suggest. "New capital" — to create and sustain jobs — "can come from only two sources: savings and profit."

*in the case of General Electric, profits average just about five cents on each sales dollar.

We may have a job for your future

GENERAL ELECTRIC

We have seen that time does move relentlessly onward, not in organized compartments, but with a variety of seemingly insignificant and unrelated episodes.

But it is with memories locked in our minds, we see that in these moments we are involved in each others lives.

This, then, is the story of the Edneyville Connection.
